

How To Install And Set Up STBEMU-X On Your Firestick

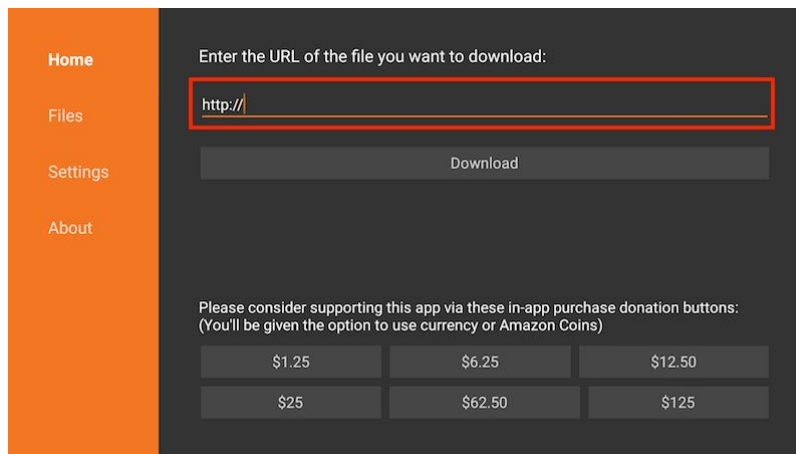

Please note: If you have a 1st generation firestick the app will most probably be unstable so best to use another app.

If you have not already make sure you go into settings, device then turn on allow apps from untrusted sources to make sure the app can install. Here is a guide on youtube <https://tinyurl.com/UNKNSC>

Ok, you will need to press the home button on firestick remote then go to the top and press left to the magnifying glass and type in Downloader Search for the app then install Downloader and open it.

Once installed run the app and click on box to input the URL

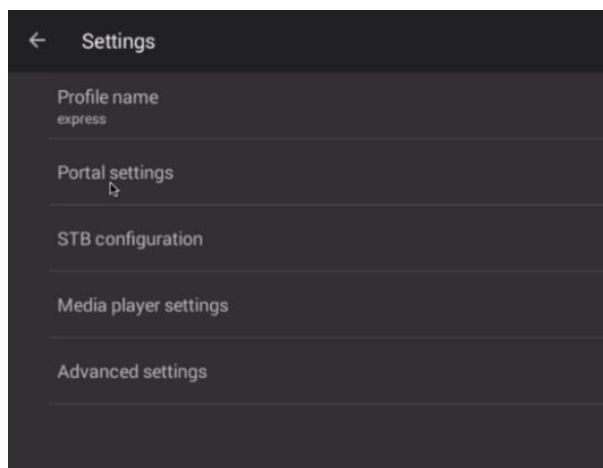

The URL you need to input is <http://tinyurl.com/STBEMUX> this will allow you to download and install the app then you just want to open the app.

How To Configure STBEMU-X

Ok now that you have STBEMU-X installed its time to set everything up so you can get watching your favourite IPTV channels.

The first thing you will want to do is find your mac address, To do this you need to Press Configure

When in Settings go down into Profiles. You will want to press ok on the actual profile to edit it. You will see it will have a profile name such as DEFAULT #48732 so click on the name to see the profiles settings

Then click on STB Configuration settings and press OK.

When in the STB configuration menu you will see a section that is called MAC-address you will need to write that down then email us the mac address code so we can activate the code for you on our system after you have a subscription from us.

Now once you have sent us the MAC code you have written down you can press back on the remote until you get to a blue screen then press the menu button or on a firestick the little 3 line button on the remote to bring up the side menu.

Now go down to profile and press ok and then press ok again to load the profile which will restart the app and once the app has restarted you will see the portal once the yellow bar loads up for the first time.

The app is very easy to use you just find your category and press ok on it then press ok on a channel to play it or press right on the channel to see its TV guide or to use the 7day catch up feature.
